The charge is for burning the stable and house of Mr. Douglass, the house of Ann Diggs, col'd. and a house belonging to James Abbott, on the night of the 21st March last. ha McQuail tes ified to the effect that he had said he know who set fire to these houses,

GIRL AT A HALF-DRY PUMP. - On one of our recent perambulations, we observed a white girl hang her bucket on a pump, and commence working the handle, which at every all labor in vain, and asked her what she was trying to pump that dry pump for? "No, si.," said she, "it's not dry-I'll make the water come directly." So, on she worked till her face got as red as damaek, and her patience seemed to be fast wearing out, giving her healthy and rather handsome countenance a cross expression. Still she persevered, and at length the pump yielded to her exertions. a wreath of rosy smiles over her face. CAMP MEETING AT GOOD HOPE .- The colored population of this and surrounding cities are at present holding their annual encampment under the patronage of the Emigrant Aid Soat the above place, over the Eastern Branch bridge. We paid them a visit yesterday, and were much pleased with what we observed. Tere are a large number of tents on the ground, in all of which there are excellent accommodations, and the utmost decorum prevailed throughout. We afterwards attended the camp where preaching, praying and singing were given, and were for some time rivetted to the spot by the excellence of language employed by the several speakers, as well as the aweet melody which was produced by the combined voices. There was a large attendance of our white population present, and during our stay harmony and order prevailed. We learn that some visious boys or young men, living near the Navy Yard, amused themselves last night, throwing stones at some of the returning wagons. A party of seven white men, who had been pelied, got out of their vehicle and returned the compliment.

THE GRAND PRIZE EXCUESION -The Washington Light Infantry's grand prize excursion takes place, be it remembered, to-morrow. Three elegant silver cups are to be shot for, one by citizens, one by the military generally, and one by the members of the Infantry, and there are other extraordinary attractions. The favorite steamer George Washington will carry the party to the White House, lea ing in the morning and afternoon, and returning at 7 and 10 o'clock at night-an excellent arrangement for all parties. In the hands of the veteran Light Infantry, those participatirg may be sure of receiving full satisfaction. The combany will find the muskets for all who participate in the interesting target ex-

Such victous dogs should be factoned, or put out of the way, and the owners made to pay damages.

PIRST NIGHT OF KUNERL'S TROUPS. -This Q the troupe of minstrels having arrived from Baltimore, where they played to immense houses during their stay, will open the National Theatre to-night with a capital performance. Probably the best, and certainly the most popular, band that has performed here, they will again be welcomed by our citizens with enthusiasm. Some additional performers have been sided to the troupe, among them the favorite. Master Adams, the sweet singer, and the prince of dancers Jim Brown. A full house to them;

THE PRESIDENT'S MOUNTED GUARD -Next 12th of September being the second anniversary of the first parade of the President's Mounted Guard, that excellent corps propose edebrating it in an unusually fine style. They are to form in the morning, and proceed to the Park, where the day will be past in manuvering and various amusements. They will be fully equipped, with pistols, carbines, &c., the same as the cavalry uniform of the United States regular army. They are to shoot for three silver cups, and other valuable and interesting prizes. At the time of the formation of this company, it was said by certain knowing ones that it would not exist a year-but how these predictions have been defeated is surprising. The company now have doubled its strength and efficiency. To Captain Pock the highest credit is due for the artraordinary success of the corps, assisted by Lieutenants Baden, Flint, Bohlayer, Orderly

Sergeant Finch, and the able instructor Sergeant Hamilton. The corps have selected beautiful spot at the Park, where they can pick their "Flints," and surely expect a fine Choss-Fining -On Saturday, a trial wahad before Justice Morsell, the arties to which
